Associate in Science in Math for Transfer – New degree approved for 2015-16

The Associate in Science in Mathematics for Transfer degree is designed to award an Associate in Science degree to those who are intending to transfer to the California State University system in mathematics. The Associate in Science in Mathematics for Transfer degree is intended to meet the needs of mathematics students who do not require significant coursework in the sciences to complete their degree. The requirements for the Associate in Science in Mathematics for Transfer degree were chosen solely to meet the requirements for the Transfer Model Curriculum in Mathematics and may not be adequate preparation for transfer to institutions outside of the California State University System.

Requirements for the Associate in Science in Mathematics for Transfer degree include:

1. Completion of 60 CSU transferable semester units, including (a) the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) or California State University General Education Breadth requirements, and (b) a minimum of 18 semester units or 27 quarter units in a major or area of emphasis.

Students may choose any additional course(s) from List A above to compensate for loss of units. For example, if a student does not take SPANISH 1, they must choose a course from List A of at least three units which will allow them to fulfill 18 units in the major per Title 5 regulation. Students who are placed out of lower levels of Spanish into a more advanced level, either by the department or through Advanced Placement credit, must take additional List A courses to meet the minimum 18 unit Title 5 requirement.
