Upskilling Valued Employees and Skilled Recruits

A Career Certificate is awarded when a participant completes a sequence of courses leading to a specific area of employment. This type of training is designed for those participants who have limited time to pursue their formal education; yet wish to advance their careers.

Unlike the fee-for-service training programs offered at Los Angeles Harbor College, the Career Certificate is ideal as part of a tuition reimbursement program because it allows the participant to earn college credit towards the completion of a post-secondary degree.
