

About Los Angeles Community College District

Over the past seventy-seven years the Los Angeles Community College District (LACCD) served as educator to more than three million students. LACCD educates almost three times as many Latino students and nearly four times as many African-American students as all of the University of California campuses combined. Eighty percent of LACCD students are from underserved populations. More than half of all LACCD students are older than 25 years of age, and more than a quarter are 35 or older.

The Los Angeles Community College District is the largest community college district in the United States and is one of the largest in the world. The LACCD consists of nine colleges and covers an area of more than 882 square miles.
