

Los Angeles Valley College Humanities & Communications Career & Academic Pathway Spring 2022 Student Writing Conference Call for Papers!

Please register in advance for the Zoom link

Image "Rebuilding" by Liz Mack

Since the Covid-19 pandemic, many have lost loved ones and have experienced mental health crises and isolation. We have witnessed a racial reckoning after the murders of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, and others. Though what was lost can never be regained, hope for the future still remains. We are interested in writing that explores the themes of hope and rebuilding, though we will accept writing on any topic. We are looking for the following genres of writing:

Critical/Argumentative Essays

Research Essays

Narrative Essays

Short Stories

Poetry

“Rebuilding”

Monday May 1:30 PM - 16, 2022 3:30PM

Prizes of $250, $100, and $50 to the LAVC Bookstore will be given to award-winning compositions!
(Must have paid ASO Fees)

Completed applications with attached writing (full length essays, excerpts, proposals, etc.) should be submitted no later than Friday, May 6th.

If you need an accommodation, please contact Holly Batty at least 10 days before this event (battyhk@lavc.edu). This event is sponsored by Guided Pathways and the Associated Student Union.